

Hot Spots Holistic Pet Healing

Hot spots are all about toxicity. The organs are overloaded with toxins. Learn how to heal your animal naturally, while not contributing to their toxic load. Within the last few years, the concept of chakras and energy healing has expanded from human well-being to include our beloved pets, especially dogs.

As a holistic approach to health, it considers that energy flows through various body points called chakras. Balancing these chakras in your dog will ensure that it is in perfect health and well-being.
